Team Expectations Agreement[1]

When working in a team, problems occasionally arise. One source of problems is the differing expectations of team members. For example, one person may think that an email response should come within 2 hours, while another may think that 2 days is acceptable.

In this tutorial, your team will work on establishing team expectations. In the space below, write down the list of agreed upon guidelines that your team intends to follow. Include guidelines for the following:

- methods of communication (email, phone, messenger, text, . . . )
- communication response times (email, phone, messenger, text, . . . )
- meeting attendance (when to meet, whether all meetings are mandatory, . . . )
- running meetings (when, where, face-to-face vs. online, who takes minutes, . . . )
- meeting preparation (whether preparation is needed, what to prepare, . . . )
- version control (what to/not to commit, content of log messages, . . . )
- division of work (how to divide work, who will decide who does what, . . . )
- submitting assignments (when to submit, who will submit, who will review the submission, . . . )
- contingency planning (what if a team member drops out, what if a team member consistently misses meetings, what if a team member is academically dishonest, . . . ) We suggest that in these cases, a team promptly seeks help from the instructor. It is important not to let such situations escalate.

The list above is just meant to get you started. If you had any team problems in the past, think about what went wrong and how expectations can be set to prevent those types of problems.

Communication: Discord voice calls

Communication Response time: up to 24 hours

Meetings attendance : We will meet every Thursday each week and hold a second meeting only when needed (for blockers/deadlines), and everyone is expected to attend.

Running meetings: meet on weekends on Discord, in-person meetings on Fridays after class(optional)

Meeting preparation: preparation will be provided per meeting

Version control: Sprint 0 has been pushed to main only, but for every other sprint always make a branch before committing, write helpful commit messages and descriptions

Work division: Tasks assigned in Trello; each story has an owner + backup; ask for help early.

Submission assignments: Internal deadline 24 hours before the official deadline; one person submits and the team double-checks.

Contingency planning: We record the issue formally and let the course instructor or TA know about the situation.

We accept these guidelines and intend to fulfill them (sign below):
